Introduction

This hearing was convened in response to an Application for Dispute Resolution, in which the Tenant applied for the return of his security deposit and to recover the filing fee from the Landlord for the cost of filing this application.

The Tenant stated that he personally delivered copies of the Application for Dispute Resolution and Notice of Hearing to the employee at the front office of the Landlord's business office on, or about, May 20, 2010. These documents are deemed to have been served in accordance with section 89(1)(b) of the Residential Tenancy Act (Act), however the Landlord did not appear at the hearing.

Issue(s) to be Decided

The issue to be decided is whether the Tenant is entitled to the return of double the security deposit paid in relation to this tenancy and to recover the cost of filing this Application for Dispute Resolution.

Background and Evidence

The Tenant stated that this tenancy began sometime in 2007; that he paid a security deposit of $550.00 on, or about, April 30, 2007; that the tenancy ended on August 31, 2009; that the Tenant did not authorize the Landlord to retain the security deposit; that the Landlord did not return any portion of the security deposit; and that the Landlord did not file an Application for Dispute Resolution claiming against the security deposit.

The Tenant stated that he personally delivered a letter, which contained his forwarding address, to an employee at the front office of the Landlord's business office on September 01, 2009 or September 02, 2009.

Analysis

On the basis of the evidence provided by the Tenant, and in the absence of evidence to the contrary, I find that the Tenant paid a security deposit of $550.00 on, or about, April 30, 2007; that the Landlord did not return any portion of the security deposit; that the Tenant did not authorize the Landlord to retain any portion of the security deposit; that the Landlord did not file an Application for Dispute Resolution claiming against the deposit; and that the Landlord did not have authorization to retain any portion of it.

On the basis of the evidence provided by the Tenant, and in the absence of evidence to the contrary, I find that this tenancy ended on August 31, 2009 and that the Tenant provided the Landlord with a forwarding address, in writing, on September 01, 2009 or September 02, 2009.

Section 38(1) of the Act stipulates that within 15 days after the later of the date the tenancy ends and the date the landlord receives the tenant's forwarding address in writing, the landlord must either repay the security deposit and/or pet damage deposit plus interest or make an application for dispute resolution claiming against the deposits. In the circumstances before me, I find that the Landlord failed to comply with section 38(1), as the Landlord has not repaid the security deposit or filed an Application for Dispute Resolution.

Section 38(6) of the Act stipulates that if a landlord does not comply with subsection 38(1), the Landlord must pay the tenant double the amount of the security deposit, pet damage deposit, or both, as applicable. As I have found that the Landlord did not comply with section 38(1) of the Act, I find that the Landlord must pay the Tenant double the security deposit that was paid, plus any interest due on the original amount.

Conclusion

I find that the Tenant has established a monetary claim of $1,163.89, which is comprised of double the security deposit, $13.89 in interest on the original amount of the security deposit, and $50.00 as compensation for the cost of filing this Application for Dispute Resolution, and I am issuing a monetary Order in that amount. In the event that the Landlord does not voluntarily comply with this Order, it may be filed with the Province of British Columbia Small Claims Court and enforced as an Order of that Court.

This decision is made on authority delegated to me by the Director of the Residential Tenancy Branch under Section 9.1(1) of the Residential Tenancy Act.
