DECISION

Dispute Codes MNR, MNSD, OPR, FF

Introduction

This hearing dealt with an application by the landlord for an order of possession, a monetary order and an order to retain the security deposit in partial satisfaction of the claim. Both parties participated in the conference call hearing.

Issues to be Decided

Is the landlord entitled to an order of possession?

Is the landlord entitled to a monetary order for unpaid rent and loss of income?

Background and Evidence

The facts are not in dispute. The tenant was obligated to pay $2,400.00 per month in rent and failed to pay rent in the month of May. On May 10, 2011 the landlord served the tenant with a notice to end tenancy. The tenant further failed to pay rent in the month of June.

Analysis

I find that on May 10, 2011 the tenant was served with a notice to end tenancy for non-payment of rent. The tenant did not pay the outstanding rent within 5 days of receiving the notice and did not apply for dispute resolution to dispute the notice and is therefore conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy ended on the effective date of the notice. Based on the above facts I find that the landlord is entitled to an order of possession. The tenant must be served with the order of possession. Should the tenant fail to comply with the order, the order may be filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia and enforced as an order of that Court.

As for the monetary order, I find that the tenant failed to pay rent in the months of May and June. I find that the landlord has established a claim for $4,800.00 in unpaid rent. The landlord is also entitled to recovery of the $50.00 filing fee. I grant the landlord an order under section 67 for $4,850.00. This order may be filed in the Small Claims Division of the Provincial Court and enforced as an order of that Court. The landlord may retain the security deposit any accrued interest in partial satisfaction of the claim.

Conclusion

The landlord is granted an order of possession and a monetary order for $4,850.00.
The landlord may retain the security deposit in partial satisfaction of the monetary order.
