DECISION

Dispute Codes OPR, MNR, FF

Introduction

This hearing dealt with an application by the landlord for an order of possession, a monetary order and an order to retain the security deposit in partial satisfaction of the claim. Despite having been personally served with the application for dispute resolution and notice of hearing on April 11, the tenants did not participate in the conference call hearing.

Issues to be Decided

Is the landlord entitled to an order of possession?
Is the landlord entitled to a monetary order?

Background and Evidence

The landlord's undisputed evidence is as follows. The tenancy began on or about November 1, 2011. Rent in the amount of $900.00 is payable in advance on the first day of each month. The tenants failed to pay rent in the month of April 2012 and on April 2 the landlord personally served the tenants with a notice to end tenancy.

Analysis

I accept the landlord's undisputed testimony and I find that the tenants did not pay rent for the month of April and on April 2 were personally served with a notice to end tenancy for non-payment of rent. The tenants did not pay the outstanding rent within 5 days of receiving the notice and did not apply for dispute resolution to dispute the notice and are therefore conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy ended on the effective date of the notice. Based on the above facts I find that the landlord is entitled to an order of possession. The tenants must be served with the order of possession. Should the tenants fail to comply with the order, the order may be filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia and enforced as an order of that Court.

As for the monetary order, I find that the landlord is entitled to recover the unpaid rent for the month of April as well as the $50.00 filing fee paid to bring this application and I grant the landlord an order under section 67 for $950.00. This order may be filed in the Small Claims Division of the Provincial Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

Conclusion

The landlord is granted an order of possession and a monetary order for $950.00.
