Introduction

This hearing dealt with an Application for Dispute Resolution by the landlord seeking an Order of Possession based on the Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent dated July 17, 2012, a monetary order for rent owed and an order to retain the security deposit in partial satisfaction of the claim.

Both parties appeared and gave affirmed testimony during the conference call.

Issue(s) to be Decided

Issue(s) to be Decided

Is the landlord entitled to an Order of Possession based on the 10-Day Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent ?

Is the landlord entitled to monetary compensation for rental arrears owed?

Background and Evidence

The landlord testified that the tenancy started on March 1, 2012 with rent set at $1,300.00 per month and a security deposit of $650.00 was paid

The landlord testified that the tenant fell into arrears in July and a Ten Day Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent was issued. The landlord testified that the tenant made partial payments which were accepted for "use and occupancy only", but as of this date is still in arrears for $723.00.

The landlord is seeking an order of possession based on the Notice and a monetary order for $723.00 for rental arrears for August 2012.

The tenant did not dispute that all of the rent owed was not paid within 5 days of receiving the Ten Day Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent and that arrears for August are now owed. The tenant stated that she is prepared to catch up on all the arrears and can have the outstanding amount paid in full in the near future.

Analysis

Section 26 of the Act states that rent must be paid when it is due, under the tenancy agreement, whether or not the landlord complies with the Act, the regulations or the tenancy agreement. Through testimony from both parties it has been established that the tenant did not pay the rent when it was due. Although the tenant attempted to give testimony about the condition of the rental unit, I found that this data was not relevant to the issue of rental arrears in the landlord's application.

When a tenant fails to comply with section 26, then section 46 of the Act permits the landlord to end the tenancy by issuing a Ten-Day Notice effective on a date that is not earlier than 10 days after the date the tenant receives it. I accept the landlord's testimony that he served the tenant with a Ten Day Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent on July 17, 2012.

The Act provides that within 5 days after receiving a notice under this section, the tenant may pay the overdue rent, to cancel the Notice, or to dispute the Notice by making an application for dispute resolution. In fact, the Ten-day Notice included written instructions on page 2 informing the respondent about how and when a tenant may dispute the notice if the claim is not being accepted. In this case I find that the tenant did neither.

I find that section 46(5) of the Act provides that, if a tenant does not pay the rent or make an application for dispute resolution in accordance with the above, then the tenant is conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy ends on the effective date shown on the notice, and must vacate the rental unit by that date.

Based on the above, I find that the landlord is entitled to an Order of Possession under the Act.

I find that the landlord has established a total monetary claim of $773.00 comprised of $723.00 rental arrears and the $50.00 fee paid by the landlord for this application. I order that the landlord retain the security deposit of $650.00 in partial satisfaction of the claim, leaving a balance due of $123.00.

Conclusion

I hereby issue an Order of Possession in favour of the landlord effective two days after service on the tenant. This order must be served on the Respondent and may be filed in the Supreme Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

I hereby grant the Landlord an order under section 67 for $123.00. This order must be served on the Respondent and may be filed in the Provincial Court (Small Claims) and enforced as an order of that Court.
