DECISION

Dispute Codes OPR, MNSD, MNDC, FF

Introduction

This hearing dealt with an application by the landlord for an order of possession, a monetary order and an order to retain the security deposit in partial satisfaction of the claim. Despite having been served with the application for dispute resolution and notice of hearing sent by registered mail on January 12, 2013, the tenant did not participate in the conference call hearing.

Issues to be Decided

Is the landlord entitled to an order of possession?

Is the landlord entitled to a monetary order for unpaid rent and loss of income?

Background and Evidence

The landlord's undisputed evidence is as follows. The tenancy began on or about May 29, 2013. Rent in the amount of $650.00 is payable in advance on the first day of each month. At the outset of the tenancy the landlord collected from the tenant a security deposit in the amount of $300.00. The tenant failed to pay rent in the month of October and on October 31, the landlord personally served the tenant with a notice to end tenancy. The tenant further failed to pay rent in the months of November, December, January and February.

Analysis

I accept the landlord's undisputed testimony and I find that the tenant did not pay rent for the month of October and on October 31 was personally served with a notice to end tenancy for non-payment of rent. The tenant did not pay the outstanding rent within 5 days of receiving the notice and did not apply for dispute resolution to dispute the notice and is therefore conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy ended on the effective date of the notice. Based on the above facts I find that the landlord is entitled to an order of possession. The tenant must be served with the order of possession. Should the tenant fail to comply with the order, the order may be filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia and enforced as an order of that Court.

As for the monetary order, I find that the landlord is entitled to recover the unpaid rent for the months of October – February inclusive as well as the $50.00 filing fee paid to bring this application for a total entitlement of $3,300.00. I order that the landlord retain the $300.00 security deposit in partial satisfaction of the claim and I grant the landlord an order under section 67 for the balance due of $3,000.00. This order may be filed in the Small Claims Division of the Provincial Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

Conclusion

The landlord is granted an order of possession and a monetary order for $3,000.00. The landlord will retain the security deposit.
