DECISION

Dispute Codes OPR, MNR, FF

Introduction

This hearing was convened in response to an application by the Landlord pursuant to the Residential Tenancy Act (the “Act”) for Orders as follows:

1. An Order of Possession - Section 55;
2. A Monetary Order for unpaid rent - Section 67; and
3. An Order to recover the filing fee for this application - Section 72.

I accept the Landlord’s evidence that the Tenant was served with the application for dispute resolution and notice of hearing by registered mail in accordance with Section 89 of the Act. The Tenant did not participate in the conference call hearing. The Landlord was given full opportunity to be heard, to present evidence and to make submissions.

Issue(s) to be Decided

Is the notice to end tenancy valid?

Is the Landlord entitled to an Order of Possession?

Is the Landlord entitled to the monetary amounts claimed?

Background and Evidence

The tenancy began on June 1, 2014. Rent of $750.00 is payable in advance on the first day of each month. At the outset of the tenancy, the Landlord collected $375.00 as a security deposit from the Tenant. There is no provision in the tenancy agreement for a late rent fee.

The Tenant owed arrears of $5,013.13 and failed to pay rent for August 2015. On August 6, 2015 the Landlord served the Tenant with a 10 day notice to end tenancy for unpaid rent (the "Notice") by posting the Notice on the door. The Tenant has not made an application for dispute resolution, has not paid the rent, including the rent for September, October and November 2015.00 and has not moved out of the unit. The Landlord claims unpaid rent and late rent fees.

Analysis

Section 55 of the Act provides that a landlord may request an order of possession of a rental unit by making an application for dispute resolution where a notice to end the tenancy has been given by the landlord, the tenant has not disputed the Notice by making an application for dispute resolution and the time for making that application has expired.

Based on the Landlord's evidence I find that the Tenant was given a valid Notice. The Tenant has not filed an application to dispute the Notice, has not paid the rent and has not moved out of the units. Given these facts, I find that the Landlord is entitled to an Order of Possession. I also find that the Landlord has established a monetary claim for $8,013.13 in unpaid rent to and including November 2015. As the tenancy agreement does not provide for late rent fees I dismiss this claim. The Landlord is entitled to recovery of the $100.00 filing fee for a total monetary amount of $8,113.13. Setting the security deposit of $375.00 plus zero interest off the entitlement leaves $7,738.13 owed by the Tenant to the Landlord.

Conclusion

I grant an Order of Possession to the Landlord. The Tenant must be served with this Order of Possession. Should the Tenant fail to comply with the order, the order may be filed in the Supreme Court of British Columbia and enforced as an order of that Court.

I order that the Landlord retain the deposit and interest of $375.00 in partial satisfaction of the claim and I grant the Landlord an order under Section 67 of the Act for the balance due of $7,738.13. If necessary, this order may be filed in the Small Claims Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

This decision is made on authority delegated to me by the Director of the Residential Tenancy Branch under Section 9.1(1) of the Residential Tenancy Act.
