A matter regarding 1165150 B.C. LTD
and [tenant name suppressed to protect privacy]

DECISION

Dispute Codes OPC, FFL

Introduction

This hearing dealt with an Application for Dispute Resolution by the Landlord filed under the Residential Tenancy Act, (the “Act”) to enforce a One Month Notice to End Tenancy for Cause, (the “Notice”) issued on September 16, 2020, and to recover the filing fee for this application. The matter was set for a conference call.

The Landlord attended the hearing and was affirmed to be truthful in their testimony. As the Tenant did not attend the hearing, service of the Notice of Dispute Resolution Hearing was considered. Section 59 of the Act states that the respondent must be served with a copy of the Application for Dispute Resolution and Notice of Hearing. The Landlord testified that they served the Application for Dispute Resolution to the Tenant by Canada Post registered mail, sent on October 28, 2020, a tracking number was provided as proof of service. I find that the Tenant has been duly served in accordance with the Act.

The Landlord was provided with the opportunity to present their evidence orally and in written and documentary form, and to make submissions at the hearing.

I have reviewed all oral and written evidence before me that met the requirements of the Rules of Procedure. However, only the evidence relevant to the issues and findings in this matter are described in this decision

Issue to be Decided

- Is the Landlord entitled to an order of possession, pursuant to section 47 of the Act?
- Is the Landlord entitled to the recovery of the filing fee for this application?

Background and Evidence

The Tenancy agreement shows that this tenancy started on January 1, 2020, as one-year fixed term tenancy. Rent in the amount of $950.00 is to be paid by the first day of each month, and that the Tenant paid the Landlord a $475.00 security deposit. The Landlord submitted a copy of the tenancy agreement into documentary evidence.

Landlord testified that they served the Notice to the Tenant on September 16, 2020, by personally serving the Notice to the Tenant. The Notice indicated an end of tenancy date of October 31, 2020.

The Landlord testified that the Tenant had not disputed the Notice or moved out in accordance with the Notice.

The Landlord testified that they are seeking an order of possession.

Analysis

Based on the testimony, the documentary evidence before me, and on a balance of probabilities, I find as follows:

Section 47 of the Act requires that upon receipt of a Notice to End Tenancy for Cause a tenant must, within ten days, dispute the notice by filing an Application for Dispute Resolution with the Residential Tenancy Branch. If the tenant does not do this, the tenant is conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy will end on the effective date of the Notice under section 47(5).

Landlord's notice: cause

47 (5) If a tenant who has received a notice under this section does not make an application for dispute resolution in accordance with subsection (4), the tenant

- (a) is conclusively presumed to have accepted that the tenancy ends on the effective date of the notice, and
- (b) must vacate the rental unit by that date.

I find that the Tenant had personally received the Notice to end the tenancy on September 16, 2020. Pursuant to section 47(8) the Act, the Tenant had 10 days to dispute the Notice. Consequently, the Tenant had until September 26, 2020, to dispute the notice by filing an Application for Dispute Resolution with the Residential Tenancy Branch.

In this case, I find that the Tenant did not dispute the Notice to End Tenancy and that the time for doing so has expired. Therefore, pursuant to section 47(5a) I find that the Tenant is conclusively presumed to have accepted the Notice and that the tenancy would end in accordance with that Notice.

Section 55(2b) of the Act states that a landlord may request an order of possession if a notice to end the tenancy has been given by the landlord and the tenant has not disputed the notice by making an application for dispute resolution and the time for making that application has expired.

Order of possession for the landlord

55 (2) A landlord may request an order of possession of a rental unit in any of the following circumstances by making an application for dispute resolution:

- (b) a notice to end the tenancy has been given by the landlord, the tenant has not disputed the notice by making an application for dispute resolution and the time for making that application has expired

I find that the Landlord is entitled to an order of possession, pursuant to section 55 of the Act, effective not later than 2 days after service of this Order upon the Tenant. This order may be filed in the Supreme Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

The Tenant is cautioned that the costs of such enforcement are recoverable from the Tenant.

Additionally, section 72 of the Act gives me the authority to order the repayment of a fee for an application for dispute resolution. As the Landlord has been successful in their application, I find that the Landlord is entitled to recover the $100.00 filing fee paid for this application. I grant permission to the Landlord to keep $100.00 from the security deposit they are holding for this tenancy, in full satisfaction of this award.

Conclusion

I find that the Tenant did not dispute the Notice and is therefore presumed under the law to have accepted that the tenancy ended on the effective date of the Notice.

I grant an Order of Possession to the Landlord, effective not later than 2 days after service of this Order upon the Tenant. The Tenant must be served with this Order. Should the Tenant fail to comply with this Order, this Order may be filed and enforced as an Order of the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

I grant permission to the Landlord to keep $100.00 from the security deposit for this tenancy, in full satisfaction of the award contained in my decision.

This decision is made on authority delegated to me by the Director of the Residential Tenancy Branch under Section 9.1(1) of the Residential Tenancy Act.
