DECISION

Dispute Codes CNR, AAT

Introduction

This hearing dealt with an Application for Dispute Resolution by the tenant filed under the Residential Tenancy Act (the “Act”), to cancel a 10 Day Notice to End Tenancy for Unpaid Rent or Utilities (the “Notice”), issued on December 14, 2020 and to be allowed access to their unit.

Both parties appeared, gave testimony, and were provided the opportunity to present their evidence orally and in written and documentary form, and to cross-examine the other party, and make submissions at the hearing.

The parties confirmed receipt of all evidence submissions and there were no disputes in relation to review of the evidence submissions.

I have reviewed all evidence and testimony before me that met the requirements of the rules of procedure. I refer only to relevant facts and issues in this decision.

Issue to be Decided

Should the Notice be cancelled?

Background and Evidence

In this matter the landlord is a tenant under their own agreement and sublets 6 rooms under separate agreements. The landlord subject to this application does not live on the property. Therefore, I find the Act has jurisdiction over this matter.

The tenancy began on June 8, 2020. Rent in the amount of $850.00 was payable on the first of each month. A security deposit of $425.00 was paid by the tenant. In addition to rent, the tenant is to pay 1/6 of 75% of the utilities.

The tenant testified that they received the Notice on December 15, 2020. The tenant stated that they did not pay the outstanding rent and has failed to pay subsequent. The tenant stated that they have been having difficulties paying rent due to personal circumstance.

The landlord stated that the tenant current owes rent in the amount of $4,900.00 and wants and order of possession.

Analysis

Based on the above, the testimony and evidence, and on a balance of probabilities, I find as follows:

Rules about payment and non-payment of rent are defined in Part 2 of the Act.

Rules about payment and non-payment of rent

26 (1) A tenant must pay rent when it is due under the tenancy agreement, whether or not the landlord complies with this Act, the regulations or the tenancy agreement, unless the tenant has a right under this Act to deduct all or a portion of the rent.

How to end a tenancy is defined in Part 4 of the Act.

Landlord's notice: non-payment of rent

46 (1) A landlord may end a tenancy if rent is unpaid on any day after the day it is due, by giving notice to end the tenancy effective on a date that is not earlier than 10 days after the date the tenant receives the notice.

(2) A notice under this section must comply with section 52 [form and content of notice to end tenancy].

(4) Within 5 days after receiving a notice under this section, the tenant may

(a) pay the overdue rent, in which case the notice has no effect, or

(b) dispute the notice by making an application for dispute resolution.

Upon review of the Notice, I find the Notice is completed in accordance with the requirements of section 52 of the Act.

Under the legislation the tenant may dispute the Notice for specific reasons, such as they have proof that their rent was paid or that the tenant had the right under the Act to deduct all or a portion from their rent, such as an order from an Arbitrator.

Although the tenant filed an application for dispute resolution within the time limit permitted under the Act, I find the tenant's application had no merit as the tenant admitted rent was not paid within 5 days after receiving the Notice and have further failed to pay all subsequent rent. Therefore, I dismiss the tenant's application without leave to reapply.

As the tenant's application is dismissed, I find the landlord is entitled to an order of possession, pursuant to section 55 of the Act.

Order of possession for the landlord

55 (1) If a tenant makes an application for dispute resolution to dispute a landlord's notice to end a tenancy, the director must grant to the landlord an order of possession of the rental unit if

(a) the landlord's notice to end tenancy complies with section 52 [form and content of notice to end tenancy], and

(b) the director, during the dispute resolution proceeding, dismisses the tenant's application or upholds the landlord's notice.

I find that the landlord is entitled to an order of possession, pursuant to section 55 of the Act, effective two days after service on the tenant. This order may be filed in the Supreme Court and enforced as an order of that Court.

At the end of the hearing the tenant wanted me to determine if they are entitled to stay in another room in the house that is rented under another person's tenancy agreement, as someone's guest. The tenant was informed that I would not determine such an issue at this hearing.z

The tenant was argumentative on this issue and the tenant was repeatedly told that I was not prepared and found it would be inappropriate to give them legal advice that could have an affect on someone else's tenancy.

Conclusion

The tenant's application is dismissed. The landlord is granted an order of possession.

This decision is made on authority delegated to me by the Director of the Residential Tenancy Branch under Section 9.1(1) of the Residential Tenancy Act.
